It cannot be said that Tom Mix is up to his old tricks again because in his latest William Fox photoplay, "Treat 'Em Rough," which opens today at the Colomai Theater, he has a lot of new stunts which he puts on the screen with his usual pep and thrill.

You are amazed and

You are amazed and your heart beats fast as Tom rolls down a steep hill, seated in a horseless wagon, which crashes into and through a hut housing cattle bandits. Two added fea-tures include a new "Lonesome Luke" comedy and a new Coloniai Screen Review.

Bryant Washburn at Bijou.

That versatile young screen star, Bryant Washburn, has a human interest comedy in "The Way of a Man With a Maid," and the story originally appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, where Bryant himself read it and set about securing screen rights. It is a Paramount picture and will be shown at the Bijou Theater to-day and to-morrow. "Smiling Bill" Parsons in "Bill's Sweetie" and a new Bray Pictograph are added features.

"The Squaw Man" at the Isis.
One of the most thrilling scenes ever photographed in a motion pleture is the battle fought by Henry, Earl of Kerhill, with a great lion in which the Englishman is slain, and which is graphically pletured in Cecil it. De Mille's superb picturization of Edwin Milton Royle's "The Squaw Man," now showing at the Isis. "The Village Chestnut" with the Sennett stars is the added feature.

Petrova at the Bluebird.

A return showing of 'Tempered Steel,' featuring Mine. Olga Petrova, will be had at the Bluebird to-day, Mine. Petrova wears the most exquisite clothing and varied wardrobe in this production that she has ever worn in her entire screen career. In her delineation of the typical Southern girl of modern independent ways she seems to have caught the spirit of the latter-day descendants of Robert E. Lee with unusual realism. At her first apter-day descendants of Robert E. Lee with unusual realism. At her first appearance she appears in a natty silk riding habit, which seems to give her the very air of a daughter of the rich plantation owner of the Blue Ridge country. A strong cast supports Mme, Petrova, including Lucille LaVerne and Thomas Holding.
